Duff's College Circular for 1867, Has just been issued by the Principals of this widely known and favorite Pittsburgh establishment. The publication is in the quarto form, and contains some new and interesting matter relative to the course of business education, so long and so successfully taught in the institution. Among other things we notice a beautiful electrotype engraving of Wm. H. Duff's handwriting, in an elegant set of capitals, and an original and animated design of Pen Flourishing, which every one desirous of becoming a master penman, will prize as a gem of the chirographic art.

Venison! Venison!!

Mr. William Holtzheimer, the popular proprietor of the Continental Dining Saloon, next door to the Postoffice, on Fifth street, has just received several magnificent specimens of wild deer, which will be served to his customers to-day. Mr. Holtzheimer is alive to his business and his tables are kept better supplied with rare game, &c., than those of any hotel in the State. His oysters are of the prime, eat quality and for a good, square meal at most reasonable rates, we know no better place to recommend than the Continental Saloon. Elegant apartments have been suitably fixed up for the lady patrons of the house, and on evening parties, no more appropriate or better dining saloon can be found whereat to procure a first class supper.

Fine Photographs.

The present is excellent weather for the taking of fine, clear and truthful photographs. We observed yesterday in the magnificent show windows of B. L. H. Dabbs' palatial rooms, No. 26 St. Clair street, some photographs which few could believe were taken in the cloudy atmosphere of Pittsburgh. But Mr. Dabbs enjoys a reputation as an artist which is a fortune to him, and every picture turned out, no matter whether costly or cheap, is calculated to sustain the high character of his establishment. His cabinet styles are truly superb, rivaling even the finest of oil paintings from the best of masters. Persons contemplating having pictures taken will do well to favor Mr. Dabbs' gallery with a call. He keeps on hand a full line of cases, frames and photographic materials, where all those engaged in the sun shadowing business can obtain their supplies at the most reasonable of prices. Remember the place, No. 26 St. Clair street.

Cancer Cured.

We herewith publish the cure of a terrible case of cancer, which was cured by DR. KEYSER, of this city, by means of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, and some other additional treatment' The original letters, under the lady's own hand, can be seen on application:

CERTIFICATE.—Dr. Keyser: I take pleasure in making this voluntary statement in favor of your treatment and medicine. I suffered for three years with cancer, which broke out on my face. I tried several skillful physicians, but they did me no good. I was in three hospitals, and was sent out as incurable. By that time it had eaten my nose entirely off my face, and three pieces of bone had come out of my forehead. It had also eaten the flesh off my cheek and neck. I had given up all hopes of ever getting cured. My daughter sent me a few bottles of your medicine. I was very weak when I commenced taking your medicine, but I gained strength daily; so I continued to take it. I have taken in all twenty-five bottles of your medicine, and am happy to say I am perfectly cured. It is a year since I was cured, and have been healthier since than I was for years. I take great pleasure in recommending your treatment to those who may be afflicted as I have been. * * * I feel it my duty to recommend it to all who suffer from cancer. ANN MORGAN,

Wife of Thomas Morgan,
Blanavan, Monmouthshire, England.

Particular attention will be given to the cure of all diseases of the skin and hair, scrofula, fistula, piles, and ulcerated sore legs, without the use of caustics or the knife. Dr. Keyser's private office, No. 120 Penn street. Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Constipation of the Bowels.

When this is merely accidental or occasional, a dose of Roback's Sugar Coated Blood Pills is the only treatment necessary; but when it has become habitual, it calls for further attention. INDIANA.

The Annual Message of Governor Morton.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 11—Gov. Morton delivered his message to the Legislature, in joint convention, this afternoon. The message is very long. The financial condition of the State is more favorable than at any former period in its history. The total public debt is $2,387,560, upon which a reduction of over one million will be made by July next. The population of the State is rapidly increasing. From the statistics it is estimated that the number of inhabitants in 1870 will be over 1,600,000. The passage of a registry law, and the establishment of an emigration bureau, and encouragement to Europe to emigrate to this section, are recommended. The school fund of the State is estimated at nearly eight millions of dollars.

The Governor recommends provision by law for a uniform system in the common schools, to prevent unjust discrimination in favor of or against any of the present laws should be so amended as to educate the colored children, and such proportion of the school fund as may be in proportion to the number of colored children, be set apart and applied to their education by separate schools. The Governor favors all due appropriation for the soldiers' and Sean n's House.

On the National debt and Currency questions he is opposed to inflation, and favors paying the whole debt. The action of the South caused the contraction of the debt, and they should contribute their share to the payment of it. Their present destitute condition of the South, he is unable to do. He is therefore, in favor of taxation, so as to pay Loyal Government expenses, and the interest on the public debt, leaving the principal to times of more general prosperity. He favors the appropriating during the rebellion, shall accomplish the work of reconstruction, it will have done well, and may properly leave at that part of the debt for the coming generation.

On the question of negro suffrage, the Governor says it is impossible to deny four millions of free colored people the ballot in a government they helped to support. Taxation and representation should go together, but taxation is a natural right and should be subjected to restriction only for the benefit of society. He says the Constitutional amendment question has been fully discussed, and recommends its consideration, and hopes that its ratification will soon be published to the world as the declaration of the spirit and purpose of the people of Indiana.

GENERAL BEAUREGARD.

He Defines His Position on the Questions Now Pending.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10.—A letter from General Beauregard to Wm. H. C. King, editor of the Times, will appear to-morrow morning, referring to statements published in the Northern papers, about his positions on national questions. General Beauregard states that he did not make a speech at Canton, but said in private conversation that the South had defended what it conceived to be its constitutional rights, and having appealed to arbitration of arms, it yielded to the decision given against it, and that he believed the Southern people were now willing to accept the Constitution as made by the war, and understood by the Supreme Court, including the Fourteenth Amendment, he said he had little opportunity, except through the papers, to ascertain the public sentiment, but his impression was that the South should not accept it, as its interests and manhood forbade. The South was at the mercy of the North, but it should never do anything which its honor could not approve. It should protect its own interest; and at last, if he must use the word, the mutilated government, be meant a common, federal, national government—operating under the Constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court.

It is urged as a measure that will have a most beneficial result. It will remove all cause of difference between the Executive and Legislature, and secure that harmony which has been the object of the best citizens since the organization of the State government.

On motion of Mr. McBrier, a committee of three was appointed to wait upon the Mayor and Director of the Poor, and conduct them to the Council Chamber. The Chair appointed Messrs. McBrier, of Select Council, and Patterson and McNeill, of Common Council.

The returns for Mayor and Director of the Poor, were then read and approved.

Hon. John Morrison, Mayor elect, and Col. Geo. Gerst, Director of the Poor, elect, were then escorted to the chamber and introduced by Mr. McBrier. Each was then inducted into office by Alderman Hays, and subscribed to the oath. After the oath of office had been administered to Mayor Morrison, he said:

Mr. President and Members of Council: The vote of the citizens of Allegheny has again developed the fact that I am not the choice of a majority. I thank them for this renewed expression of their confidence.

During the past year the good order of the city has not only equalled but exceeded that of former years—crime has not increased within our boundaries with our increase of population, and the future city enjoys a high degree of prosperity, and the new year opens with bright prospects of future prosperity.

The citizens of Manchester have expressed a desire to unite their population with ours, and this year may see this desirable union accomplished. For this boon, I, at least, think we have the good opinion of our neighbors, who must have been observant of the behavior of your officers as well as my own, during the past year.

Hoping that I will be sustained as heretofore by the citizens of Allegheny, in maintaining the good name and reputation of our city, I, as the Executive officer, will endeavor to do my duty, and I am sure, Mr. President, the Councils will do the same.

SELECT COUNCIL.

The Common council then retired to their chamber, when the Select Council proceeded to the election of officers.

Mr. James W. Hall was nominated for President, and re-elected by acclamation.

Mr. D. Macferren, Clerk, and A. Hasselbaugh, Messenger, were also re-elected by acclamation.

Mr. M'Brier, upon taking the chair, expressed his high appreciation of the flattering compliment which had been tendered him. He referred briefly to several public improvements which would be inaugurated during the present year, and expressed a hope that the financial affairs of the city would be conducted economically and intelligently.

On motion, the rules of order governing the last Councils were adopted.

A communication from the Board of Health, relative to burials on the Common Grounds be appointed. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Irwin, the Committee on Streets and Committee on Bridges were ordered to meet on Monday evening next.

COMMON COUNCIL.

When the members of Common Council had assembled in their chamber, a temporary organization was effected by calling Alex. Hamm, Esq., of the First ward, to the chair, and appointing Hugh McNeill, Esq., of the Fourth ward, as Secretary.

The names of members was then called, when the following gentlemen answered to their names: First ward—Alexander Hamm, C. Ingham, Charles Cutler, John S. Reed. Second ward—Joseph McDonald, William H. Dunham, John Kirkpatrick, George D. Biddle. Third ward—Joseph M. Brennan, N. H. Voeghtley, John Horn. Fourth ward—Hugh McNeil, John Megraw, E. F. A. Faulhaber, John S. Single.

It was then announced that the election of a permanent President was next in order, and Mr. Geo D. Biddle, of the Second ward, and Colonel Hugh McNeil, of the Third ward, were placed in nomination, and the nominations closed.

A ballot was then taken, which resulted as follows: Biddle, 7; Smith, 7.

There being no choice, a second ballot was ordered, which resulted in the election of Mr. Biddle by the following vote: Biddle, 8; Smith, 6.

On motion, the election was then made unanimous.

Mr. Biddle was then conducted to the chair, and took occasion to return his thanks for the honor conferred upon him, pledging himself to perform the duties devolving upon him conscientiously and to the best of his ability.

The election of clerk being next in order, Messrs. Robert Dilworth, of the Second ward, and James S. Stevenson, of the Second ward, were placed in nomination.

A ballot was then taken, which resulted as follows: Dilworth 12, Stevenson 4. Mr. Dilworth was therefore declared duly elected.

Augustus Hasselbaugh was then elected messenger of Council by acclamation.

The Clerk was then directed to notify Select Council that Council was duly organized, and prepared for the transaction of business.

On motion of Mr. Hanna, a resolution was adopted, providing for a meeting of Councils on Tuesday evening of next week, for the election of city officers.

On motion the rules of order governing the last Councils were adopted for the ensuing year, and the Clerk directed to furnish each member with a copy of the same.

There being no further business to transact, Council adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening next.

Funeral Solemnities.

On Thursday there was a funeral on Point street, in the first ward. The mourning friends sent orders to Mr. W. S. Jackson, livery stable keeper on Fourth street, to send one carriage to the house. At the specified time in the afternoon the carriage was sent according to orders. Arrived at the spot, the driver discovered that a funeral party large enough for six carriages was congregated with the purpose of crowding into the one carriage that was sent. The driver protested and the party insisted. At length the driver, finding words of no avail, flatly refused to allow the crowd, and turned his vehicle around and drove off for the stable again. This roused the ire of the others to the boiling point, and they assailed the retreating carriage with a volley of stones, brick-bats, and chunks of ice, vociferating the vehicle in the most opprobrious manner on approved Billingsgate scale. One of the missiles struck the driver on the back of the head, inflicting quite a severe hurt. The carriage was not much damaged. No informations, and consequently no arrests, were made.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

The Tidnsville Herald says: We noticed yesterday the arrest of Mark Hughes, William Hughes (his father), and William Hunt, who had been detected by ex-policeman Fred. Carter in passing counterfeit money. Mark Hughes, a boy about eighteen years of age, made a confession before Justice Strouse, implicating several other parties at Petroleum Centre, and the justice issued warrants for their arrest and deputized Carter to "go for them." Accordingly the officer went to the Centre, and accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Kinney, called at the Sherman House, kept by a "hover" named Eugene English. He was arrested, together with John Stout, and a fellow called "Sandy," both of whom were in the house. Carter found sixteen fifty cent counterfeit stamps in the money drawer of the bar. They then arrested Elias Hughes, brother of William Hughes, and evidently an old stager in this line of business. The boy Mark says that he lived at his uncle Elias's house last summer, and he kept a stock of bogus stamps on hand to sell to the "shovers." Mark used to stay about nights and look through the cracks and see the old man count up his profits and drive sharp bargains with his customers, just as little Oliver Twist occasionally detected Old Fagin driving sharp bargains with Charley Bates and the Artful Dodger. The difference between Oliver and Mark is the former was an innocent babe, and the latter is a precocious scamp.

The prisoners, four in number, were all brought to this city, and lodged in the calaboose. There are now seven; a pretty good haul.

Eugene English, who is probably one of the ringleaders of the gang, came

EMPLOYER AND THE EMPLOYE.

Wonderful changes have taken place in the relations between the employer and employe during the past twenty or thirty years. The great responsibility which her stofore devolved upon the former, in a great measure, is removed, by apparently uncontrollable causes. Some think, however, their responsibility is virtually the same, though circumstances are widely different now from what they were then. This species of modernism has been detrimental to the true interests of the employed, especially to those who are just commencing their apprentice career. The rapid development of our manufacturing interests, and the immense number of persons needed to carry forward the work, are doubtless the principal causes why the relations have so materially changed.

It will be remembered by many of our readers, the relations which existed in olden time between the employer and the employed. Such was the interest felt by the former towards those in his service, that they shared in the common benefits of his house, and almost became the same as members of the family. Instances are at hand of those who entered service with a view to learning some mechanical branch of trade, who had been cordially welcomed into the family circle and treated as a member thereof. Young men under this benign influence became wedded to their houses, and grew up in the enjoyment of its sacred influences. Many a young man thus under the influences of a well ordered family, have been saved from a life of shame and folly. Relations once merely of a legal character, have frequently been changed to more endearing and deligatful —from master and apprentice to father and son-according to law. Habits were formed which became omnipotent for good.

But the rapid changes brought about by the development of the mechanic arts, introduction of machinery to facilitate these pursuits, have destroyed the time-honored custom, and intimacy between the employer and his workman. Now the young man who is indentured to learn any mechanical branch of business, is hired for a given sum per diem, for a period of years, and no surveillance is placed over his morals. He is free to go and come and be his own master, after he fulfils his days' work. However faithfully he may perform his work, and honorable his course, during business hours, yet not having any restraint in the interim, he is apt to fall into vicious habits, which might have been prevented had he have been an inmate in his employer's family.

The vast crowds of young men which throng our frequented and most public streets early in the evening, shows the pernicious influences of the present system, and the fearful retrograde from other years. Multitudes of these young men, many of whom are possessed of genius of a higher order, find time hanging so heavily upon their hands, that they easily become a prey to evil associations, and are speedily ruined. And the evil is on the increase, and threatens the very foundations of society. Such is the enormity of evil doing between nightfall and daylight, in our community, that hundreds and thousands of young men are hastening to a fearful end. It is not surprising to hear of sudden deaths among young men. The wonder is that more do not die. The large wages now received enables them to gratify their appetites and vicious tastes, in a manner that could not be attained under the old apprentice system.

Granting that the changes are the legitimate result of the circumstances of the age, and the responsibility of the employer may be changed, still he is not necessarily relieved entirely while the character of his surveillance is changed, and there is a measure of accountability which cannot be evaded. The employer's duty is not over when he exacts a certain amount of work from the employee. He should endeavor to mould his morals foo so as to interest, instruct, and make him useful and happy. New-a-days much care is taken by the proprietors of large establishments to secure certain house conveniences for workmen and their families. This is well. But there is the tinge of selfishness in the act, on the very face of it. It lacks that disinterestedness which is always commendable. It is easier, however, to make objections than suggest remedies for an evil. And yet some things might be done by those who employ large bodies of workmen to arrest the tide of iniquity, which has invaded our social system.

Man is a social being, and the first thing naturally suggested is to provide such means as will increase his social comfort and afford amusement. Many amusements, while harmless in themselves, are avenues through which many are led off and thereby outrage society. The best way to reach the social element is through the use of means in the cultivation of his mind. Many of the young men engaged in our manufacturing establishments have given very little attention to the cultivation of their minds, but have been content with pleasures more of the animal than of the mental cast, and are averse to the constraints of mental culture.

However averse a man may be to reading, and the severer duties of mental training, yet, if a system of gradation is adopted, ranging from the lowest level of mind to the higher type, it might overcome the most obtuse and obstinate. Let courses of lectures be established on the mechanic arts, illustrated in a high degree, and of such a character that every phase, of whatever department is under consideration, may be so simplified and clearly illustrated, that while the mind is undergoing the training process, it is also interested and instructed. With the cultivation of the mind, through these means, the social element will be attained too, and both sexes could share in such facilities.

In connection with these illustrated lectures, schools might be opened in the evenings for the acquisition, of not only the rudimentary branches, but a classical, and ornamental education, and also receive lessons in drawing, music, etc. These places should be so constituted, as to be easy of access to deserving young men, and without any expense to them. Our wealthy manufacturers and others, might do much towards relieving the difficulty growing out of the daily widening chasm between the employer and employe. A judicious outlay by our large manufacturers and others, would prove a great conservator in this community, and aid much in co-operating with the Church in arresting the evils which predominate so fearfully in our midst. One thing is clear, employers owe this much to society at large, if for no other consideration.

As a manufacturing community we are far behind others in our efforts to educate our workmen. While multitudes are graduating in the various mechanical departments, and have attained the position of "master mechanics," yet their lack of mental cultivation renders their practical education to some extent a nullity. Those who happily possess a cultivated mind, and a practical knowledge of some trade, are double-armed for life's journey. Such persons soon emerge from the muscular element to the mental, the brain doing what the hands formerly performed. We need something like the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. We need, and must have, some means to use the vast waste of power that is lost on our street corners. Let young men be attracted by such means as we have named, and the curb-stone hangers on our crowded thoroughfares in the early hours of the evening will be greatly diminished.

It is a reproach on this great manufacturing community, the great lack of educated mechanics. The intimate relations of employer and employed are such that the former is bound to use all possible means to elevate the employed. We hope, therefore, that some movement ere long will be inaugurated to enhance the interests of young men, especially in the various establishments.

We may return to this subject again.

PARTICIPATION IN GOVERNMENT.

All aristocracies, however they may differ in immaterial peculiarities, are identical in essential and permanent elements. The manifestation varies according to the age, the country and the condition, but at the core—in the distinguished ideas and feelings—they are all alike.

So long as the government of a great people can be kept as a close corporation, in the hands of a few individuals or families, it is the highest earthly possession. Official rank, overflowing wealth, and eminent social position come of it. Eighteen years ago a numerous family of paupers managed, by virtue of a powerful tradition, to get the government of France in their keeping. Ever since they have ridden on the high places of the earth. Their fingers have run deep into the public treasury, and their brows have been bound with the choicest honors. When a comparatively few individuals or families have held such a possession for a series of years, or for many generations, they come to regard it as something personal to themselves. They feel it is their's in the same sense as a legitimate proprietor feels houses and lands to be his. In consequence, whenever those who have been excluded from participation in the government become restive, and urge a recognition of their claims—much more when they proceed to demand it—they are at the least held to be refractory and mutinous; often as revolutionary.

The American slaveholders, for more than two generations, held control of the republic. A sense of superiority to the non-slaveholding was so constant and overt in them as to be highly offensive, while they went so far as to maintain both in theory and practice that black men and women had no rights they were bound to respect. In this they did not exhibit a sham. Habit, self interest, the lust of denomination, combined to blunt their perceptions, and induced upon their frames of feeling most incompatable with justice and humanity. Nothing could be more absurd than to believe they would voluntarily relinquish a prescriptive authority that was as pleasant as it was profitable. It is not thus that reforms are not instituted. They who build shrines for Diana do not go about preaching the advent of the Messiah. But the plowshare of war, recklessly invoked, was driven through the Southern States, and under its operation Slavery disappeared forever.

If any man imagines that with the downfall of that institution all the habits of thought and feeling engendered by it were uprooted, he strangely mistakes. It is the common experience that under circumstances of discomfiture malevolent habits become intensified. The manifestation of them may, indeed, be modified, but the essential element remains, and acquires an abnormal activity. Our Southern aristocracy find it useless to contend any longer against the possession of personal liberty by the blacks; but they resist, with the utmost pertinacity, their acquisition of those other political rights which are the natural and inalienable inheritance of all men. This brings our Southern aristocracy into the same category precisely with the European aristocracies.

In England, by way of illustration, the majority of the inhabitants are debarred from participation in the government. They bear the larger part of the burdens of it, but are not allowed to share in its powers. That imperious class which sits upon their necks, have a comfortable time of it so long as their victims are docile. There is no aristocracy elsewhere at all comparable to this, for learning, for luxurious living, and for wide sweep of authority. No doubt the members of it are sincerely opposed to being disturbed. But, as knowledge increases—as intelligence becomes diffused among the masses—the rightfulness of their prerogatives is subjected more and more to question and dispute.

The Reform movement makes the English aristocracy nervous and apprehensive. It is a challenge of their exclusiveness. It demands of them a surrender of the monopoly of political authority. It bids them divide a power they and their ancestors have held from time immemorial with those whom they have regarded in no other light than pensioners on their bounty. In refusing this demand they rest under a disadvantage which our Southern aristocracy does not encounter. The men to whom they deny equality of rights are white as themselves. They cannot taunt those whom they oppress with the misfortune of being of an unfashionable color. Nor can they make an appeal to passion and prejudice by stoutly maintaining that the English government belongs to white men alone. They are constrained to meet the issue more directly and honestly, and to say outright they do not want laboring people to meddle with governmental matters—that gentlemen only, of fortune and leisure, should concern themselves with affairs of state. True, they raise a clamor against a particular class somewhat akin to that raised by our aristocracy against the blacks. That class are the Irish—the very same that in this land are the most unreasoning and vindictive haters of the negroes. It seems as if all the contumelies, reproaches and animosities poured upon them by the English aristocracy had been garnered up in their bosoms, and in this land launched anew upon the children of Africa.

The recent Reform demonstrations in London created a panic at the West End. Quite an exodus happened. It was thought prudent to be at a distance in view of a possible collision. Of what avail is this determination not to do justice? It does not require a prophet's keen eye to see that the English aristocracy must divest itself willingly, or be divested by violence, of its prescriptive privileges. Byron, who had an ear for all the complaints, as well as all the majestic voices of nature, said he heard a bird singing, "By and by the people will be stronger." They are stronger now, and the aristocracy that refuses to bow before them will certainly be crushed and broken.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

In Cincinnati, the waiters of a hotel quit work because the proprietors refused to take again into their employ a discharged servant. They had twenty five days' wages due them when they gave up their places. Landlords refused to pay. Suit was brought and the court ruled that the waiters should go without their money. So much for combination.

THE TRUTH ABOUT DYSPEPSIA.—Whoever says that Dyspepsia is incurable, tells a—that is to say, makes an egregious mistake. More than ten thousand aggravated cases have been cured by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, while the number that have been prevented from coming to a head, by the same means, is incalculable. In Winter and early Spring, when the appetite is sometimes too vigorous for the comfort and safety of the stomach, indigestion is most prevalent and most distressing. Is the appetite to be balked to accommodate the digestive organs? Not so; for then the frame would lack its due proportion of nutriment. The thing to be done is to STRENGTHEN THE STOMACH, tone the liver, and put the bowels in perfect order. Nothing will do this so effectually, so rapidly, so quietly so pleasantly, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This potent preparation trims and balances the system, and clothes it, as it were, with defensive armor. Chronic dyspepsia, liver complaint, and fever and ague are never known to attack those who are wise enough to invoke the aid of this great preventive.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE.)

GAZETTE ENLARGEMENT.

The great amount of advertising awarded the GAZETTE by the business community has forced upon us the urgent necessity of an enlargement of the size of our journal. We at first contemplated issuing a quarto paper, but upon consultation with the proprietors of such journals elsewhere we were dissuaded from adopting that form, feeling that the interests of our advertisers would suffer, while readers would be but slightly benefited. After much study into the matter we have concluded to retain the present form of the GAZETTE, but will add four columns to its size, making THIRTY-SIX COLUMNS OF SPACE. By this arrangement we will be enabled to do full justice to both readers and advertisers, making all pages of our journal equally valuable to the latter, and furnishing more reading matter to the former. In our new size we shall make our bow to the public about the 15th inst., and trust the general community will appreciate our efforts to supply a first-class advertising medium and local and political newspaper.

Annual Meeting of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association—Election of Officers.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association was held at the Library room last evening, at half-past seven o'clock, a large attendance of members being present. In the absence of Major Frew, the President, who is travelling in Europe, and George Shiras, Jr., Esq., the Vice President, Dr. E. E. McGowan was called on to preside. The reporters present were courteously invited to seats at one of the tables.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read by the secretary and unanimously approved. The Acting President then read the annual reports of the retiring officers of the Association. Below we give abstracts:

ANNUAL REPORT.

The nineteenth annual report of the Board of Directors, embracing the affairs of the Association during the year ending December 31st, 1866, is respectfully submitted as follows:

FINANCES.

The Treasurer's report shows a balance on hand of $78 24. The total receipts of the year amounted to $5,284 35, and the expenditures to $5,023 09, showing an expenditure of $229 74 above the receipts. This excess of expenditure was provided for by the sum of $1,417 50 which was in the treasury on the 1st of January, 1866.

LIBRARY.

The Librarian reports 7,754 volumes on the shelves, of which 1,286 were purchased during the year. The circulation during the year amounted to 22,609 volumes. The following brief statement of the transactions of this department has been furnished by the Librarian:

MEMBERSHIP.

Present number acting	720
Life members	11
Honorary members	5
Total members	736

Showing an increase of twenty over last year.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

The President in his report says:

The list of active members would appear to be entirely disproportionate to our large and growing community. Nor can the appointment and exertions of special agents and canvassing committees be successful in procuring an adequate increase to our numbers without the co-operation of the individual members of the association. Each member should refrain that a large increase of membership will not only extend the advantages of our institution to such new members, but will largely increase our resources, and furnish means for the needed annual increase to the Library.

LECTURES.

The Treasurer's report shows that the thanks of the Association are due to the Lecture Committee of 1865 and 1866, for their zealous and successful management of that department. The amount of receipts from that source alone was $2,830 55. The new committee have emulated the former one, and are laboring zealously to cause the course of lectures of the present season to be an equally successful one.

The reports were unanimously accepted, and a vote of thanks tendered to the retiring officers for the able and conscientious manner in which they had performed the duties assigned to them.

The President then announced that the election of officers to serve during the year 1867 was next in order, and tellers were appointed preparatory to balloting for officers. There was but one ticket proposed, and the balloting resulted in the election of the following officers:

President—John R. McCune. Vice President—Jacob F. Slagle. Secretary—Augustus H. Lane. Treasurer—Robert S. Smith. Directors—Samuel Colford, W. D. Moreland, Andrew Carnegie, James E. Dickson, John Cassells. Auditors—W. P. Weyman, C. I. Wade, H. Holdship.

After the result of the election had been declared, the meeting adjourned.

We are exceedingly gratified to learn of the continued and increasing prosperity of this excellent Association. Its value to the community is appreciated, and we hope will continue to be.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This court was in session yesterday, Judge Stowe on the bench.

COURTNEY'S STATION RAPE CASE.

Michael Sullivan, about twenty-one years of age, an Irishman, was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with having outraged the person of Maggie Mitchell, aged fourteen years. The defendant was tried, on the same indictment, during the present term, but the jury failed to agree, hence this second trial. It is alleged that on Sunday, October 14th, he went to the house of Mrs. Dugan, stepmother of the prosecutrix, at Courtney's Station, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, near the Ohio river, and there, in the absence of her parents (mother and stepfather) or other person, committed the offense complained of. The girl testified that on the day stated, defendant came into the house and asked for a drink of water, which she gave him. After drinking, he got hold of her, put his arms and carried her from the kitchen to an adjoining room, where he fully accomplished his purpose. As defendant passed out of the kitchen door he met the mother of the girl, who had some conversation with him before she entered the house. Upon going in she noticed bloodmarks upon the floor and on interrogating her daughter learned from her what had transpired. Mrs. Dugan then had some further conversation with defendant, who had not yet left the premises, and upbraided him for what her daughter said he had done. He made an insolent reply and then went off laughing. It appears that during the forenoon Mr. and Mrs. Dugan went up the river in a skiff some two miles, taking with them their youngest daughter, and leaving Maggie at home. They returned in the afternoon, and arrived at their house, as stated about the time Sullivan was leaving. The prosecutrix testified that she made outcry several times, and resisted Sullivan all she was able. A few days afterwards Sullivan was arrested while on the eve of departing eastward by railroad, and in the tombs at the Alleghany Mayor's office he admitted, to the officers, that he had misused the prosecutrix. He spoke as though he had not been obliged to use any force, and that what had taken place had been mutually agreed to. The parents of the prosecutrix testified to circumstances corroborative of her statement, and with their evidence, and that of the officers, who arrested the defendant, the prosecution rested. The case was not concluded at adjournment. It will be resumed on Monday morning.

Monongahela Slackwater Navigation.

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the stockholders of the Monongahela River Navigation Company was held yesterday afternoon, at the office of the Company, No. 75 Grant street. The report of the Treasurer, William Bakewell, Esq., shows the receipts of the company during the past year were $213,786 35, and the disbursements $191,417 22, making the profits $21,869 13.

From the report of the Cargo Inspector, W. J. Moorhead, Esq., we glean the following statistics: Receipts from tolls for coal and slack, $77,811 26; freights, &c., $95,520 90; passengers, $2,859 08. From Tonnage Tax—coal and slack, $31,649 08; freights, &c., $4,284 89. Total, $236,125 21. Receipts at the several locks—Lock No 1, $31,234 91; Lock No. 2, $68,458 49; Lock No. 3, $28,961 32; Lock No. 4, $17,372 67; Lock No. 5, $1,777 28; Lock No. 6, $8,166 31. Coal, 4,236,122 21. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President—J. K. Moorhead.

Secretary and Treasurer—Wm. Bakewell.

Managers—F. R. Brunot, W. B. Copeland, John Graham, John Harper, A. N. Hogg, W. K. Hart, Max. S. Morehead, Wm. Wade, M. Whitmore, James Veech.

Fatal Result of an Affray.

The Wheeling Intelligencer has the following concerning a case which we have already published: On Christmas Eve several young gentlemen were engaged at Donovan's Saloon raffling for turkeys. A dispute arose between two of them, George Bresock and Joan Farley. Bresock accused Farley with cheating off one which he had won. The parties went out of the saloon still wrangling, and entering the alley near, leading to Market street, got into a scuffle, which resulted in Bresock's pulling out a pistol and with it shooting Farley. The ball entered near the arm pit and passed through the shoulder. The same night Bresock was arrested. Christmas morning he was given a hearing before Judge Good, who required him to give bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at court.

Farley went, or was taken home, and for several days after the wound was not thought to be dangerous. But a new physician being called in last Wednesday, he said that the ball had passed near the axillary artery or one of its branches, and the wound would require careful attention.

Wild Animals.

Wild animals are unusually plenty this winter in the Alleghany mountains of this State. No less than eight panthers were killed in Centre county week before last. A panther was also seen recently in Somerset county, and in the same county wolves have made their appearance this winter. Wildcats, bears and deer are taken frequently in Cambria, Somerset and neighboring counties. Wild turkeys have appeared in great numbers in Huntingdon county, and the Journal prays for the passage of a law making it an indictable offense to trap or pen them. Perhaps the extreme cold weather has had much to do with driving all wild animals into the neighborhood of the "settlements."

Good Haul.

The Kittanning Free Press has the following story: About three months ago the store of Mr. Christy, of Rosston, was entered and goods to the amount of about one thousand dollars, together with some postage stamps, stolen therefrom, the whole being taken away on a hand car on the Allegheny Valley Railway. All efforts to trace the robbers proved unavailing, until Sunday the 23d ult., when, by mere accident the whole affair was brought to light. On the day in question a gentleman in Allegheny Tp., discovered tracks leading to an unworked coal bank near the Kiskiminetas river, and resolved to discover their meaning. To this end, accompanied by several other persons, the bank was entered with a light and search commenced, and while thus engaged they were interrupted by the entrance of a second party, two women, having a lantern. The first party secreted themselves until the second party passed them, when they patiently awaited the result. Presently they heard pounding as of a box being broken open, and in due course of time the women returned, each carrying a bundle. They were suffered to pass out unmolested, when the first party proceeded to overhaul a fine stock of dry goods, &c., secreted in the coal bank. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the suspected parties, who were promptly captured, and lodged in jail. They consist of Lewis Klingensmith and wife, Doc. Shuster and wife, the two families living in one house at the North American Oil Works, in Allegheny township, Sheriff Aiken, of Manor township; Mathias Hays, of Westmoreland county; and James Dale, of the Soda Works. Mr. Christy identified his goods. A lot of goods stolen a short time ago from the store of Thomas Meredith, at the Mouth of Mahoning, were found in the possession of Aiken.

Further Particulars.

The Harrisburg Telegraph gives the following additional particulars concerning the freezing to death of Ludwig Minsker: A few days ago we published the mere announcement that Mr. Ludwig Minsker, of this county, had been frozen to death. We are now enabled to give the following particulars of the end of the unfortunate man. On New Year's day, between 9 and 10 o'clock, Mr. Minsker left his house, two and a half miles north of Dauphin, for the purpose of taking a number of butchering tools to the house of a neighbor. At two o'clock in the afternoon, he was last seen alive on his return, but he failed to reach home, and in the evening efforts were made to ascertain his whereabouts, but it was not until the next morning that the body of Mr. M. was found, by his son Moses, about a mile from the family residence. Mr. M. was subject to epileptic fits, and it is supposed he was attacked by one of these, as there are indications that he arose from the place in which he had first fallen, and walked a distance of thirty yards toward home, where he was frozen. Mr. Minsker, aged, at the time of his decease, was 67 years, 10 months and 20 days. He was born in the neighborhood in which he died, and his whole life was passed in the place, where he was highly respected by all who knew him. He was the father of Mr. John Minsker, bridge builder of the Northern Central Railroad Company.

Postoffice Robbery.

The Norristown Republican has the following report of a Postoffice robbery in that place: "The postoffice at this place was burglariously entered on Tuesday night, by some person or persons, and robbed of the entire stock of letters, with the exception of about twenty that had doubtless been overlooked by some of the dead letter boxes. An entrance was first gained into the Herald press room, situated immediately in the rear of the Postoffice, by the opening of a shutter and the forcing out of a window sash. A window in the Postoffice building was then forced open by using an iron bar as a lever. The letters were then taken to the engine house attached to the printing office, and by the aid of the light from the fire, were torn open and robbed of their contents. Checks were the only things of much value that were found lying about the floor. A great number of despoiled letters were found in the yard in the rear of the Herald office, and also in a side street.

We have not been able to learn of any serious loss by the robbery, but among the great quantity of letters taken there were probably some that contained money, etc. No postage stamps or envelopes were taken. Postmaster Henry Quilliman offers a reward of one hundred dollars for the detection of the guilty party, in addition to what the Government may give.

HARDICK'S

Patent Double-Acting

STEAM PUMP

AND

FOR PUMPING

WATER, CRUDE AND REFINED OIL

This Pump combines all the advantages of other styles of Pumps now in the market, with none of their defects. The Patent Steam-Valve applied to this Pump enables it to start at any point of stroke by simply opening the Valve in the Steam-Pipe, and the Pump is sure to start at once without the use of a starting bar, or the annoyance of rolling a fly wheel around to get it off the centre. For Mine purposes this Pump is peculiarly adapted, as the Valves can be removed by unscrewing one nut, and the Valve-Chest cleaned in a few minutes. As the Pump is simple in its whole construction, it does not require the neighborhood of a machine shop to keep it in working order. The Valve-Chest and Valves are made of brass or composition, and can be easily repaired or replaced when worn out. Any carpenter can make, in a few minutes, of some hard wood, a set of Valves for this Pump, if the original ones should give out. As a Boiler Feeder, it has no superior, as it can be made to run at any speed, either slow or fast, to suit the work it has to perform. The undersigned respectfully solicits the attention of their numerous customers and the public in general to the merits of this Pump, and desire those wishing such an article to call on

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

LOCAL NEWS ON SECOND AND THIRD PAGES.

Local News.—The weather.

The process of recapitulation of business kinds transacted during 1866. Necessary reports of the year, and the railroad exhibits—all now so alarmingly and horribly prevalent, beg A." does not intend that the weather of sixty-six shall escape being sorted, sized, and recapitulated. To commence with, there were 365¼ days in the year, the quarter, however, going to the credit of 1867. Of cloudy days during the year, there were 128 ½ rainy days, 113; snow fell 43 days; the sun vouchsafed to penetrate the smoky canopy overhanging the city, 131 days; Jack Frost nipped us 21 days, but only in the months of November and December; and 28 days "leaped the live thunder." From Boyd's hill to Coal hill, and from the cloud-capped crags which stand guard over cheerful Temperanceville to the rustic haunts of later loving Dutchmen on Troy hill. Poetical that. This analysis figures up 670 days, but we presume we had occasional duplicates of atmospheric phenomena, which were taken into count, thus explaining the disparity between the number of days the almanac allows us, and the greater number figured up in the weather statistics.

Factory Burned.

The Norristown Republican has the following: Last Thursday evening, at six o'clock, a fire was discovered in the cotton factory now occupied by Messrs. Halliwell & Co. The workmen left the mill and all in seeming security at 5½ o'clock. The precise origin of the fire is unknown. It is supposed to have been caused by the friction of the loose pulley on the pillow. The damage by fire is trifling, although the fire had charred the board lining of the room (second story) where the willow is located in which the fire originated, and those on below, received the principal damage from water thrown on the room above. It will be well for factory owners to pay attention to the fact that the adjustment of the whole establishment was insured by the precaution of having steam pipes, direct from the boilers, fixed to blow steam into every room. A valve turned by one of the workmen at once subdued the flames and a few buckets of water well applied would have extinguished the fire completely. A dozen fire engines were promptly on the ground. A friend asks, should it not be the duty of firemen to educate themselves to the exercise of a calm and correct judgment as to the application of the necessary quantity of water? In the confusion caused by smoke, flame and excitement this frame of mind is attained under difficulties. Fortunately both building and machinery were insured.

Singular Loss of Money.

On Thursday evening of last week Lewis Baker, Esq., merchant of Greenfield, Washington county, met with a very serious loss in a singular manner. While he was shoveling coal into a stove in his store, his pocket-book which he had been carrying in an outside pocket of an army blouse, fell into the coal-box and its absence was not noticed until after the coal, sometime afterward, shoveled another quantity of coal into the stove, when, on search being made, it was ascertained that the book had been placed in the stove with the second lot of coal. The discovery was made, however, too late to save the book or its contents. It contained two hundred dollars in money, and notes, due bills, &c., to between three and four hundred dollars.

Ejected.

Our readers will remember the case recently disposed of in Court of Conrad Schaad charged, on oath of Adam Oxenhart, with keeping ferocious dogs. Mr. Oxenhart was attacked by the dogs, and badly lacerated, particularly by one big dog, belonging to Mr. Schaad. The jury, however, decided that said big dog was not ferocious. Yesterday, as a little reciprocal attention, in return for the courtesy shown him in the Court room, the quadruped came into Court, and snugly ensconced himself on the Judges' Bench. He had carried things up too far, and comfortable snooze, when even-handed Justice became tyrannical, and he was summarily ejected.

Distant Catchment.

The Baltzman's Journal tells this story:

MORE "VARMINTS" ABOUT.—On Tuesday, December 25th, Mr. J. W. Powell, of Bradford township, killed a large catamount near McBride's. Having discovered the foot prints of the animal, he followed them for a short distance, when they suddenly ceased. After looking around a little he again found them newly sown fast from their termination, the "varmint" having leaped that distance for the purpose of catching a rabbit, a portion of which was still lying on the ground, the approach of her pursuer having evidently caused her catamountship to abandon her hasty repast. Mr. P. then followed the animal to its lair, where he succeeded in shooting it.

Canceled for an Accident.—The Meadville Journal states that Rev. R. Craighead and lady, who met with a serious accident last week by a runaway horse, have received from a number of their parishioners a donation visit, and gifts to the value of $300. The principal gifts were a sleigh, valued at $70, intended to take the place of the one which anticipated "scrape" in which he was seated at the time of the accident, a splendid robe, and a purse containing $95, besides smaller articles too numerous to mention.

Pleasant Surprise.—The ladies of the Presbyterian Church of Temperanceville, at a social held at the residence of Mr. Albert Higby, on Tuesday evening, surprized their pastor, Rev. S. J. Jennings, with the present of a fine set of gent's furs, a handsome cashmere dressing gown, a pair of embroidered slippers and the sum of $50. The receipt of these beautiful and substantial tokens of remembrance from his people was most gratefully and cordially acknowledged by their pastor.

Hit in the Eye.—E. H. Kelly and Arthur Donnelly had a fight at the Washington House, Union street, on Thursday night, and handled each other pretty roughly. From appearances Donnelly got the worst of it, as he received a cut on his cheek and had one of his eyes pretty badly punched in. Kelly was charged with assault and battery before Alderman Lynch and the belligerent Kelly was arrested and held to bail for a further hearing.

Death of Veteran of 1812.—Mr. Mathias Bowser, a soldier of the war of 1812, died at his residence in Greenfield township, Blair county, on the 24th inst., at the advanced age of 77 years, 6 months and 18 days. He was a native of Bedford county, born in Bedford township, near Bedford borough. He was highly esteemed and respected by all who knew him.

A Snake Killed.—On Friday, the 4th day of January, 1867, A. Pershing, Esq., of Bull skin township, Fayette county, killed a black snake measuring nearly six feet in length. The reptile had succeeded in traveling about the length of itself from its den, on the snow which was about four inches deep.

Wife Desertion.—Justice Lilup, of Birmingham, yesterday committed to jail, one J. M. R. Zoell, on oath of his wife, Mrs. Margaret Zoell, with desertion. The parties reside in Birmingham. The accused was committed for Court.

Enlargement.—The New Castle Gazette comes to us this week in an improved and enlarged form. We are pleased to note this evidence of the prosperity of a paper which ranks so high among the journals of the State.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.

GURNER & CO.,

No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose superiority and unrivalled purity is not obtinent merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a garden of blood is the exact site of the vine, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are a useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the Establishment for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA—A rich and nangra ty sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.

MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.

PORT—Very red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.

GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.

WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a superb remedy for the diseases.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last few years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner; whose stomachs are out of order and whose ill tem- are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children, of sickly nature and sour, irritable constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to intermittent fe indications, will find in one of the most valuable invigorators that can be obtained.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public for the term it is unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. The little girl is particular, with palms in her head, loss of appetite and is wasting consumptive, on those an tender habit has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Jan. 11, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 132¾; Eighty-one bonds, 107¾; Five Twenties, old, 106¾; Five Twenties, '65, 104½; Five Twenties, new, 103¾; Ten-Forties, 99; Seven Thirties, 103⅝; Michigan Southern R. R., 79½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 86½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 102¾; Chicago & Rock Island, 101½; Erie, Railroad, 63; Chicago and North Western R. R., 40¾; do preferred, 80; New York Central, 109½; Hudson, 130; Reading, 104½; Cleveland & Toledo, 124; Cumberland, 92½; Ohio, 34½; Terre Haute, 103½; Western Union Telegraph Company, 45¾.

—Mr. Hooper and Mr. Randall, both of whom have introduced important financial measures into the House of Representatives, are members of the banking and currency committee of that body. Mr. Hooper's resolution is against any increase of the currency beyond the $300,000,000 authorized by law and should be acted upon at once, so as to meet the business requirements of the country and settle this question beyond a doubt, one way or the other. The general drift of opinion in Congress is well known to be adverse to any further reduction of the currency, but that opinion ought to be declared. Mr. Randall's bill looks to an ultimate substitution of greenbacks for national bank notes, additional issues of greenbacks being made for that purpose. Its great object and effect, however, is to pay the national debt in thirty-two years, with an appropriation of eighteen millions a year for this purpose.

—The proposition to recall the power to issue circulation by the National Banks is disturbing, and with some reason, "banks of circulation!" The right of Congress to amend the law is undoubted, and hard as it might be to the banks to lose the bonus of $18,000,000 sold upon bonds pledged for circulation, the country would give satisfaction to taxpayers and the public, which everywhere recognizes the superiority of legal tenders over National Bank notes. As a step toward specie payments nothing is more necessary than to reduce the present circulating currency to one homogeneous mass, and so avoid the trouble which will be created by running the banks for legal tender, upon their circulation, as "greenbacks" grow scarce. The currency can be reduced to a uniform value by a simple process, by reducing the redemption of all National Banks by the Government, at Washington or New York, and buying of the banks the bonds now used as the basis of circulation paying them the difference between the amount of circulation issued and the average market price in New York, during 1867, of the stocks so purchased. By this process the banks would then only be obliged to keep the 25 per cent required upon their deposits, and taxpayers would see $18,000,000 in gold saved per annum. Assuming the redemption of these notes by the Treasury would make them nearly as good as legal tenders, and the prices would not produce any protracted inflation of process as many argue. The banks would get from the Treasury the margin upon their stocks now pledged, and the premium to be paid on the bonds bought of them, but they would at the same moment lose $18,000,000 in gold of taxpayers' money, a loss which would affect their ability to fasten speculation not to be supplied by having returned to them their margins and premiums upon the bonds bought and canceled by the Treasury. The destruction of the bonds howsoever as the basis or circulation would open the way for new and enlarged issues of legal tenders and compound notes into gold-bearing notes, and so expedite the time when specie payments can be permanently resumed.

This plan, thus slightly sketched, involves to the banks a loss of gold interest to the amount of $18,000,000, which is saved to the tax payers, while to the public it assures not only a better currency, but one which can be reduced to the normal wants of the country with less injury than will attend the retirement of the existing mixed currency of legal tender and bank notes.—N. Y. Tribune.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 11, 1867.

There is no improvement to note in the general tone of the produce markets, either as regards demand or prices, and, worse still, the indications for such a desirable event are not very flattering at present. As the demand for almost everything is restricted entirely to supplying the immediate wants of consumers, we have have but very few round lot operations to record.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; sale of 1 car No. 1 Spring at $2,60, and 1 car choice Winter at $3. Oats dull but unchanged—sale of one car on private terms, and small sales in store at 52 to 53. Barley is dull, and prices are very irregular—sale of 1 car Western Rye at $1,20; prime Penna and Ohio may be quoted at $1,25 to $1,30. Corn is very dull, and prime Ear is offering freely at 73 to 75.

FLOUR—Is firm, and in fair local demand but unchanged. We continue to quote choice Spring Wheat brands at $12,50 to $12,75. Winter Wheat at $13,50 to $13,50, and fancy brands at $15 to $17. Rye Flour is dull, but held pretty nearly $9 to $9,25. Buckwheat very dull and drooping, being offered at $3,50 to $3,75 per cwt.

MILLFEED—Sale of 1 car Shorts at $1,15. Meetings selling at $1,20 to $2. Seconds, $1,40 to $1,50, and Oil Meal at $2,20 to $2,25. Demand tair, and stocks light.

HAY—Car arrivals by rail were again large to-day and with a supply largely in excess of the demand, the market is very dull and prices are still tendering downward. We have a sale of 50 tons hand-pressed, wire bound, reported at $21 per ton, to arrive.

OIL—Is quiet and unchanged; No. 1 Lard Oil is still quoted at $1,12 to $1,15, and No. 2 at 97 to 90.

LARD—Is selling in a regular way at 12½ to 13 for prime kettle rendered in tierces, and the usual advance in kegs.

EGGS—Dull but unchanged; sales of 7 bbls fresh packed at 28. Limed may be quoted dull at 20.

BUTTER—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and with a big supply and large receipts, the market is dull with a declining tendency. We continue to quote at 28 to 32, for fair to prime Rolls.

APPLES—In fair demand, and we can report regular sales in store at $3,50 to $4 per barrel.

POTATOES —Continue exceedingly dull, and the supply, already too large, was increased to-day by the arrival of five more car loads. Prime Peach Blows may be quoted at 90c per bush.

DRESSED HOGS—May be quoted at 7½ to 8 cents, buyers paying 7¼—and 8¼ to 8½ in a retail way.

PITTSBURGH IRON AND BLOOM MARKET REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 11, 1867.

There is no improvement to note in the general tone of the metal market, and the indications at present are not very flattering in regard to the future. Already some of the mills have stopped, and, with a solitary exception, it is said that all will suspend within the next week or two, and this being the case, as a matter of course, there is no demand, deserving of the name, for metal. But, while there is no disguising the fact that the market is very dull and unprofitable, yet there is no great accumulation of stock of iron in this place, and no disposition manifested on the part of holders to force sales. And in regard to Pound Notes, the Legislature is considering in excess of the demand, the stock is not as large as generally supposed, and, as in the case of hard iron, the market is very dull, and if anything, prices are a shade lower. The transactions during the week were very light, as will be seen by the following report of sales.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 11, 1867.

CRUDE—The operations in crude were again very light to day, being restricted to a few hundred barrels, and while the market continues dull and depressed, prices have undergone no perceptible change—8½ to 9, bbls returned, and 13½ to 14, packages included—on the spot for good merchantable oil on Wednesday's report of sale of 200 bbls "Smith's Ferry," at 7½, delivered, and 110 bbls, on the spot, at 12½, packages included. For spring delivery, 9 cents still seems to be the asking price, and $9 @ 9¼ offered—thus far, no sales have been made below nine cents for that delivery, and there seems to be little disposition manifested on the part of either buyers or sellers to do anything, preferring rather to hold back and await future developments.

REFINED—There was rather more activity in the market for bonded oil to-day, at least, the transactions, in the aggregate, were larger than for during several days past, although prices are no better. We can report a sale of 500 bbls, for March, at 30½, delivered in Philadelphia; 80 bbls, for May, at 32; 500, for June, at 33, and 5-0, for July, at 34. The first sale noted, that for March, shows an advance of ½ a cent per gallon, as there was a sale on Thursday of 500 for same month, at 30. On the spot, we quote in the absence of sales, at 30¼ to 31, on cars here, and 27 to 27½, delivered in Philadelphia. Free Oil is quiet and unchanged—43 to 44 for standard brands, in small lots.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, January 11.—Flour dull and nominally 10 @ 15 lower; $10,75@12,75 for spring extras. Wheat quiet and 2c lower; $2,17@2,18 for No. 1, and $1,91@1 95 for No. 2. Corn still; 75½c for No. 1, and 66 @ 66 for No. 2. Provisions firm, but inactive. Mess Pork, $18,00. Live Hogs firm and 50@75c higher; $6 00@6,20 for good to choice; $5-6 and active. Receipts—3,000 bbls. flour; 15,000 bus. wheat; 35,000 bus. corn; 18,000 bus. oats; 7,000 dressed hogs. Shipments—7,000 bbls. flour; 10,000 bus. wheat; 2,000 dressed hogs.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, January 9.—The weather was delightful, indeed all that could be desired for cattle drovers, and with the usual large supply of desirable stock, and a free attendance of buyers, trade opened sharp and continued fairly active to the close. City butchers bought more freely, though on the part of shippers there was not evinced that eagerness to purchase that has characterized their movements during the half dozen days preceding this; the sudden decline in the New York market evidently having shaken their confidence. The demand was principally for fair to choice steers and good butchers' cows, and sales to-day were confined chiefly to these descriptions. Transactions embrace 1,344 head, which were divided between shippers and city butchers, at prices ranging from $3,75@4,25 for inferior to common mixed lots, including rough cows, thin steers, bulls, stags and cause oxen; $4,50@5,25 for fair to choice butchers' cows, and common to fair steers, and $5,75@6,75 for good to choice shipping beeves.
